WRIGLEY FIELD, OCTOBER 10

Three rapid touchdowns in second quarter—60-yard punt return by McAfee, and two TD passes from Luckman to Boone—give Bears 21-0 lead which is too much for Rams . . . In third quarter, Gulyanics plunges to make it 28-0 before Rams get first tally on eight yard pass, Waterfield to Zilly . . . Both teams score twice more, Rams on 25-yard pass and lateral, Hardy to Fears to Currivan, and five yard drive by Hoerner . . . Bears on 21-yard dash by Mullins and 20-yard pass, Lujack to Mullins . . . Luckman completes 13 of 16 tries for 108 yards.

LOS ANGELES COLISEUM, NOVEMBER 7

On first play from scrimmage, Bears score on 64-yard pass, Lujack to Kavanaugh . . . Teams spar until end of third period when Rams pull within one point, 7 to 6, on 20-yard pass, Hardy to Currivan . . . Bears, however, retaliate on 36-yard TD romp by Boone and one yard plunge by Boone. Mr. Boone has big day, gaining 100 yards in 10 tries. Of seven TDs Boone scored in 1948, four were against Rams . . . Gehrke leads Ram backs with 34 yards.

LOS ANGELES COLISEUM, OCTOBER 31

Hardy, playing his first complete game as a pro, stages brilliant passing display . . . Completes 28 of 53 attempts for 406 yards to smash all Ram all-time records . . . Cards, however, also ramble for total of 477 yards to Rams 460 . . . Waterfield and Harder match field goals in first quarter but Cards nab 13 to 3 halftime lead on 15-yard pass, Mallouf to Dimancheff and second Harder field goal . . . Chicagoans spurt to 27-3 lead in third stanza on one-yard plunges by Angsman and Harder . . . Three Hardy to Hickey TD passes, 11, 35 and 69 yards, narrows gap to 27-22, but time runs out. Referees call back two Ram scores on disputed plays.

COMISKEY PARK, NOVEMBER 21

Late Ram surge again falls short . . . Cards move to 10-0 second period lead on 26-yard pass, Mallouf to Kutner, and Harder field goal . . . Rams narrow gap on 80-yard strike, Waterfield to Fears, but Cards make it 17-7 when Trippi goes 11 to score . . . Rams snap back on Waterfield's 40-yard field goal and 58-yard pass, Waterfield to Currivan to make it 17 to 17 at halftime . . . Cards make it 27 to 17 on another Harder field goal and one yard smash by Harder . . . Rams again bounce back on 16-yard tally, Hardy to Fears, but last minute drive fails when Kutner intercepts pass on own 20 . . . Waterfield passes net 265 yards as Rams out-gain Cards . . . Angsman leads ball carriers with 62 yards.

LOS ANGELES COLISEUM, SEPTEMBER 22

Shaughnessy's debut as head coach in NFL a success as favored Detroit tumbles, 44 to 7 . . . Waterfield passes along with two Lion fumbles and eight yard punt net Rams 21-0 halftime lead, Hoffman scoring twice, Gehrke once . . . Lions narrow game to 21-7 on 32-yard strike, Enke to Margucci . . . Waterfield boots 14-yard field goal, Hardy passes 16 yards to Hickey and four yards to Fears, and Fears fumbles 35 yards on interception to complete scoring . . . Enke's debut success, getting 71 yards on ground, 148 in air but Dudley held to 29 yards in 10 tries . . . Gehrke nets 70 on six attempts.

BRIGGS STADIUM, OCTOBER 24

LeForce stuns Rams when three TD passes—19 yards to Dudley; 27 yards to Green; 59 yards to Mann—give Lions 21-0 halftime lead . . . Rams hold secret dressing room conclave and behind Hardy's brilliant passing and inspired line play, rebound for 34-27 nod . . . Cowhig hulls for two TDs, Hardy hits Keane—16 yards and 10 yards—for other pair, and Hoffman adds clincher on one-yard plunge with 55 seconds remaining . . . Lions had tied score at 27-27 on pass, Enke to Grimes . . . Hardy connects on 21 of 34 attempts for 62 pct. and 241 yards . . . Keane's receiving spectacular . . . Dudley injured on second play of third quarter.

CITY STADIUM, GREEN BAY, OCTOBER 17

Although Waterfield connects on 19 of 35 passes for 240 yards and the Rams gain 328 yards, the fine-inspired Packers still manage to hand the Rams their first shutout since 1942 and the first of their long series . . . A freezing gale, seven interceptions and four fumbles contributed to the Rams downfall . . . Jacobs passes 64 yards to Earhart for first score, Schlinkman plunges three for second. Fritsch winds it up with 43 yard field goal into teeth of wind . . . Canadeo running—106 yards in 16 tries—keeps Rams off balance . . . Hoerner tops Rams with 64 yards . . . Waterfield punts one 88 yards for new NFL record.

LOS ANGELES COLISEUM, NOVEMBER 28

The Rams jump to brief 7-0 lead on 37-yard pass, Waterfield to Hickey, but Canadeo evens it up on 15-yard jaunt and Fritsch puts Packers ahead on 31-yard field goal . . . Hardy and Hoerner, however, engineer 55-yard drive to give Rams 14-10 lead at halftime . . . Hoerner drives one yard for TD . . . Washington rambles seven yards to make it 21 to 10 in third quarter and Waterfield boots 37-yard field goal to wind up scoring . . . Waterfield and Hardy combine to connect on 17 of 27 passes for 203 yards . . . Hoerner and Cowhig lead ground attack.

The Top Side

Daniel F. Reeves

Daniel F. Reeves, majority stockholder and active director of the Los Angeles Rams, was born in New York City on June 30, 1912. He attended Newman Prep and graduated from Georgetown University. Mr. Reeves is a member of the Reeves grocery family of New York which sold a chain of 900 stores to Safeway in 1939. In 1941, he purchased the Cleveland Rams. Following the war, during which he served as a Captain in the Army Air Forces, Mr. Reeves moved his club to Los Angeles. He also moved his stock brokerage business west. He is married and the father of five daughters and one son.

Fred Levy, Jr.

Fred Levy, Jr., was born in Louisville, Ky., on April 8, 1902. He is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania. He was partner with Reeves at time of original purchase of Rams in 1941, sold his interest to Reeves in '43 and re-entered the partnership in 1947. He served as a Colonel in the Air-Force during th war. Owns varied business interests. He makes his permanent home in Los Angeles and moved here from Kentucky. Is married and has two daughters.

Edwin W. Pauley

Edwin W. Pauley was born in Indianapolis, Ind., on Jan. 7, 1903. His parents moved to Pasadena in 1919 and Mr. Pauley attended Occidental College for two years and then the University of California, graduating in 1923. He was a tackle on the Oxy grid team and a member of the crew of California. Mr. Pauley, along with brother Harold, has long been associated with West Coast oil interests. He is the father of three sons and one daughter and lives in Beverly Hills.

Harold Pauley

Harold R. Pauley was born in Birmingham, Ala., on June 1, 1909. He attended Stanford University, graduating in 1928. He lives in Los Angeles and is the father of three daughters. Both Pauley's were tackles in their football days.

James "Hal" Seley

James H. Seley was born at Conneaut Lake, Penn., April 19, 1906. He attended Manual Arts High School and the University of Southern California, graduating in 1929. Mr. Seley is president of the Pacific Processing Co. He is the owner of the crack three-year-old, Duplicator, that ran in the Kentucky Derby.

Clark Shaughnessy, Head Coach

The Goddess of Destiny must have a particular affection for Clark Shaughnessy. Call it coincidence or what you will, she always manages to have him present when major steps are being taken in the world of football.

The string started in 1925 when Shaughnessy's undefeated Tulane team, acclaimed the national champions, became the first Southern team to be invited to the Rose Bowl. When Tulane's president declined the invitation, Shaughnessy recommended Alabama and the Tide's acceptance started the flood of Southern teams to play in Pasadena. Shaughnessy also envisioned the present Sugar Bowl production. As coach of Loyola of the South, he originated a Christmas holiday series with Loyola of Chicago. That series is believed to be the forerunner of the present Sugar Bowl fixture.

Then up to Chicago University, just in time for the famed de-emphasis program and the final death of organized football at that once proud Big Ten power. But the Goddess had a spot all picked for her man, Stanford University, and Shaughnessy delivered with the re-birth of the T Formation. It is doubtful if any single man or team ever had such a pronounced effect on the game of football. In 1940, when Shaughnessy's Indians T'eed their way to the Rose Bowl, you probably could have counted the major teams using the T on one hand. Five years later, you could almost use the same hand to count pro, college and high school teams not using the T.

Shaughnessy was born on March 6, 1892, in St. Cloud, Minn. He played fullback for the University of Minnesota in 1911, '12 and '13.

Shaughnessy opened his coaching career at Tulane in 1915 where he remained through 1926. In 1925, the Tulane eleven was recognized as the National Champions. In 1927, Shaughnessy moved to Loyola of the South where he stayed through the 1932 season.

In 1933, he arrived at the University of Chicago. There he found a kindred spirit in George Halas of the Chicago Bears. Shaughnessy started working with Halas in 1936 and the teamwork continued until 1940 when Shaughnessy took over at Stanford.

What happened at Stanford has long since become a glowing page in football's history book. With virtually the identical personnel that had finished in the cellar of the PCL the year before, Shaughnessy led the Indians through an undefeated and untied season, climaxed by a Rose Bowl victory over Nebraska. It marked the introduction of the modern T to collegiate football.

With the war on and Stanford discontinuing football, Shaughnessy moved to Maryland in 1942 and after one year, became head coach at Pittsburgh where he remained through the 1945 season. In 1944, he became an Advisory Coach with the Redskins, a job he held until joining the Rams in the same capacity last year.

On September 3, 1948, he was appointed head coach of the Rams. Although he took over the reins a month late, the team showed amazing improvement, winning four of its last five games.

This year, the Rams are wondering what the Goddess of Destiny has in store for her favorite subject. The championship game is to be played in the West—the stage could be set.

George Trafton, Asst. Coach

George Trafton, one of the legendary linemen of the National League, was born in Chicago on December 6, 1896. As a Notre Dame center in 1918-1920, he played with George Gipp, Hunk Anderson and Clipper Smith. He started with the Chicago Bears in the early days when they were called the Staleys. He was an All-League center eight of his 13 seasons with the Bears and captained the team.

In 1930, he opened his own gymnasium in Chicago where fighters and business men worked out. He didn't devote full time to this activity, however, until he gave up active playing following the 1932 season. A boxer himself once—he knocked out Art (Whattaman) Shires and fought Primo Carnera—he managed Willie Joyce and Oscar Rankin and when the war forced him to lock up his gym in Chicago, he brought Joyce to Los Angeles. In 1944, Curly Lambeau of the Green Bay Packers, who was summering on the West Coast, signed George up as his line coach. That season, the Packers won the World Championship and when the Rams started their rebuilding program the following year, one of the first men they went after was Trafton.

Now a confirmed Californian, Trafton makes his home in Westwood. He is married and has one daughter and one young son. George is in his fourth year with the Rams. Specializing in center play, he has developed Fred Naumetz into one of the NFL's best.

Joe Stydahar, Line Coach

Joe Stydahar, one of football's all-time greats, was born in Kaylor, Pa., March 3, 1912. When he was four, the Stydahar family moved to Shinnston, West Virginia, where Joe became one of that state's greatest athletes. During his high school career, he was not only an all-state selection in football two years—once as a tackle once as a fullback—but also gained the same honor three straight years as a center in basketball. He played third base on the baseball team, but they didn't pick all-state teams in that sport.

In 1932, he entered the University of Pittsburgh, but after a month of training camp, became homesick and headed for the University of West Virginia. His senior year at that institution, he was named to the All-Eastern, Little All-American and All-American squads. He played in the East-West Game and the Chicago All-Star classic before joining the Chicago Bears in the Fall of 1936.

Stydahar immediately became one of the National League's greatest tackles, just missing All-League honor his freshman year but making the mythical team in 1937-38-39-40. He played with Bears until 1942, entered the service where he became a Lieutenant in the Navy, and then returned to his old stand at the tail end of 1945 and completed his active playing role with the 1946 season. In all, he played on five Western Division Championship clubs and three World Championship teams in his 8½ years with the pros.

In 1947, his first year as a coach with the Rams, Joe produced an All-Pro tackle in Rookie Dick Huffman. He is married, the father of a son, and lives in Southern California.

Howard "Red" Hickey, End Coach

Red Hickey, the Rams' new end coach and a member of last year's team, was born in Clarksville, Ark., Feb. 4, 1917. He earned letters in four sports at Clarksville High School—football, basketball, baseball and track. Upon graduating in 1937, he entered Arkansas where he played four years of football, basketball and track. He earned All-Southwest Conference honors in both football and basketball, captained the football team in 1940 and played in the East-West Shrine game in San Francisco the same year. He joined the Rams in 1941 after being purchased from the Pittsburgh Steelers who selected him in the annual draft. His first year in the big time he finished in sixth place among the National League's pass receivers. Following the '41 season, however, Red became a Lieutenant in the Navy and played with Great Lakes in 1942 and Bainbridge Navy in 1943, making the All-Service team in '43. Thirteen months as a gunnery officer on a tanker and Liberty ship followed, Red finally rejoining the Rams in 1945. A smart and elusive pass receiver, Hickey was the Rams' top touchdown producer last year with seven TDs. He now lives in West Los Angeles with his wife and young son.

William H. Spaulding, Advisory Coach

William H. "Bill" Spaulding, former UCLA football coach and one of the most popular sports figures in Southern California, is the latest addition to the Rams coaching staff. Spaulding, however, is senior member of the staff in years spent on the gridiron. Born in Black River Falls, Wisconsin, he attended Union High School where he played football, baseball and track. He first entered Lawrence College but after one year, transferred to Wabash College where he was a star halfback from 1904 through the 1906 season. In 1905, they defeated Notre Dame "when they had Irishmen on the team," as Spaulding puts it.

From 1907 to 1922, he coached four sports—football, baseball, basketball and track—at Kalamazoo State Teachers College. In 1925, following three years at Minnesota, he was named head coach at UCLA.

On his arrival at the Bruin campus, he was told that UCLA officials would be highly satisfied if he could beat Pomona and Occidental within the next ten years. He beat both schools his first year and won a share of the Pacific Coast Conference his tenth season.

Spaulding gave up active coaching in 1938 after 14 years at the Bruin helm. He remained as Athletic Director until 1948 when he resigned to devote full time to the Spaulding Macaroni Company and dried fruits concern. At the time of his retirement, Spaulding was the subject of a "man bits dog" celebration. Members of the Southern California press and radio held a banquet in honor of Spaulding, and not only paid tribute to their long time friend, but also picked up the tab and presented him with a watch.

Bobby was born in Palos, Ala., March 26, 1928 . . . Attended Leeds High School in Leeds, Ala., where he was outstanding in football, basketball and baseball . . . Entered Virginia Military Institute in 1945, earning four letters in football, three in baseball and two in basketball . . . Captained baseball team his final year and a regular on the basketball team . . . Considered one of greatest passing prospects since Sammy Baugh . . . Ranked third in nation in 1948 with record of 95 completions in 177 attempts for 1252 yards and 14 touchdowns . . . Second team All-Southern three years and United Press first team All-Southern in 1948 . . . Voted outstanding player in Virginia three straight years and played in the annual North-South game last December . . . Opposing coaches have this to say of Thomason, J. H. Rowland, George Washington: "I believe that Bobby Thomason is as good a passer as I have ever seen in college . . . I consider Thomason a better college passer than Sid Luckman was." Henry Frnka, Tulane: "He is one of the finest passers I have ever had to meet . . . I predict a future for him with such greats as Sammy Baugh, Sid Luckman and others of that caliber." R. C. McNeish, Virginia Tech: "I consider Bobby Thomason an outstanding prospect for any professional football team using the T formation . . . he is an exceedingly fine passer." Fred Land, The Citadel: "Passers with his ability are rare, believe me . . . He was the most polished operator in this league . . . I believe he will become one of the great pro stars in the next few years" Dick Esleeck, Richmond: "In all the years that I have been around the Southern Conference, Bobby Thomason is by far the best passer I have ever seen in this conference . . . In spite of the publicity accorded Charlie Justice of North Carolina, Bobby Thomason received my vote as the most valuable player in the conference . . . I don't see how he can miss in pro ball." Gordon A. Kirkland, Catawba: "I would say he is the best passer the South has had in years . . . I think he can possibly throw as well as anybody playing in the pro league today." . . . Has been nicknamed "The Arm" . . . Associated Press sportswriters voted him the Virginia "Athlete of the Year" . . . Graduated with degree in civil engineering and ranked in top third of his class . . . Received reserve commission in Air Force . . . Was the Rams' No. 1 draft choice.

Norman Van Brocklin

Oregon Hgt: 6 ft. 1 in. Wgt: 190 Age: 23 With Rams: Rookie

Although born in Eagle Butte, South Dakota, March 15, 1926, he attended Acalanes High School in Walnut Creek, Calif. . . . Graduated in 1943 . . . Played football, basketball and pitcher on the baseball team . . . Served three years in Navy with major time spent in Pacific . . . Entered Oregon April 1, 1946 . . . Completed required work in three years and received degree in physical education in June, 1949 . . . Enjoyed no great success as halfback in single wing in 1946, playing but 11 minutes and failing to letter, but blossomed into star in 1947 with coming of head coach Jim Aiken and the T formation . . . In his first year as T quarterback, led Pacific Coast Conference in passing and named to the All-Pacific Coast team . . . Repeated both honors in 1948 along with adding All-America laurels . . . Led Oregon to first undefeated conference season in history and first share of Pacific Coast Conference championship since 1933 . . . Oregon was first conference team to play in Cotton Bowl, losing 21 to 13 to Southern Methodist . . . In 1948 he had a record of 139 attempts, 68 completions for 1010 yards and seven touchdowns . . . He had but seven intercepted . . . A great team player . . . Regarded as the finest passer to be seen on the Coast or in th Midwest in recent years, Van Brocklin was often critized for not passing more. His answer always was: "We're winning, aren't we? What more do you want?" . . . Also a fine punter, he averaged 40.1 yards on 66 punts in 1947 to rank in the nation's top ten . . . Considered an excellent signal caller . . . Allowed free hand in running Oregon team and always had right to turn down suggestion by Aiken . . . Aiken ranks Van Brocklin as the greatest player he has ever coached . . . USC Coach Jeff Cravath rates him one of the greatest passers and 'T' quarterbacks ever to play on the Pacific Coast . . . Other quotes: Bennie Oosterbaan, Michigan coach, "In my opinion Van Brocklin handles the T better than any quarterback we faced." George Svendsen, Minnesota scout: "A crown jewel." Clark Shaughnessy, Ram coach: "I consider Van Brocklin one of the most promising 'T' quarterbacks ever to graduate from the college ranks." . . . His wife, Gloria, was a former member of the Oregon faculty and at one time was Van Brocklin's instructor in a biology class . . . He plans to become a coach.

THE RAMS, 1937 to 1949

Homer Marshman, representing prominent group of Cleveland businessmen, granted franchise by National League on Feb. 13, 1937 . . . Coached by Hugo Bezdek, former Penn State great, team wins one game in first year . . . Johnny Drake, Stan Pincura and Bob Snyder stars of team . . . Assistant Coach Art Lewis takes over ball club after four straight losses in 1938 and team wins four of remaining seven games . . . At close of season, Chicago Bears obtain Snyder in trade . . . Earl "Dutch" Clark, one of pro football's immortals, becomes head coach in 1939 and Art Lewis remains as assistant . . . Parker Hall joins team and is voted League's most valuable player . . . Rams win five, lose five to hit .500 for first time . . . Cleveland starts to take interest in club in 1940 but after great start, falters in stretch, and winds up with four victories and a tie in eleven games . . . In June of 1941, Daniel F. Reeves and Fred Levy, Jr., purchase Cleveland franchise from Marshman and immediately hire Billy Evans, former sports columnist, American League umpire and general manager of the Cleveland Indians, as the Rams' General Manager . . . The coaching staff is retained . . . Team wins first two games in '41, then drops nine straight to finish in cellar . . . Evans resigns . . . Reeves establishes extensive scouting system but war blocks flood of stars heading for Cleveland in 1942 . . . Team enjoys moderate success, winning five and losing six . . . Charles "Chile" Walsh has replaced Art Lewis as Assistant Coach and Radio Announcer Bob Kelley is acting as Club Secretary . . . Lieutenant Reeves and Major Levy are with Uncle Sam . . . Chile Walsh becomes Head Coach in 1943 when Clark resigns, but the team is given permission to suspend operations for a season . . . Levy sells his interest in club to Reeves . . . Ram players loaned to other clubs for '43 season . . . Walsh appointed General Manager in 1944 and he in turn names Aldo "Buff" Donelli head coach . . . Pick-up team loses six, wins four . . . Donelli inducted into service prior to '45 season and Walsh brings in brother Adam Walsh as head coach . . . George Trafton signed to handle line, Bob Snyder returns to old team as backfield coach . . . Also joining the club was a rookie from the West Coast, Bob Waterfield. Rams strike bonanza, win nine games, lose one and defeat Washington Redskins on frozen field, 15 to 14, for championship . . . Waterfield named League's most valuable player . . . Adam Walsh named Coach of year . . . Reeves moves franchise to Los Angeles in 1946 and 101,296 seat Memorial Coliseum becomes new home of Rams . . . Success doesn't follow, however, and Rams drop four, tie one and win six . . . Adam and Chile Walsh both resign . . . Bob Snyder named head coach, Joe Stydahar of Bear fame becomes assistant coach . . . Reeves assumes duties of general manager . . . Injuries topple big hopes for 1947 and team wins six, loses six . . . Edwin and Harold Pauley, along with Fred Levy, purchase interests in the club . . . Early in 1948, Clark Shaughnessy joins staff as Advisory Coach and appointed head coach Sept. 3 when Bob Snyder resigns . . . Team wins four of last five games for season record of six wins, five losses and one tie.
